

Are Projectors Connecting?

The day before Halloween I was invited by Lynda to teach a Projector workshop for the IHDS Biversity. I hadn't even hoped for this invitation! But it came and I said yes. Thank you very much splenic authority. "Now what?" I asked myself and shrugged. I had no idea what the topic would be as the spleen doesn't give those details. But, as is my way, ideas emerged while taking a shower. A kind of eyes-open meditation. What is it Projectors want, need, desire, or hope for that never seems to come? Ah ha!

Clients have said to me for years, "Let me know when you get Projectors together." Or "Is there a way to meet other Projector's?" They want to connect with other Projectors, but just don't know how without initiating. "Maybe we'll meet in Ibiza or Toronto." "Maybe I'll see you in an online class." "Maybe you'll move in next door!!!" We want to hear other Projector's stories and ask questions. We want reassurances that we're doing ok. We'd like to have someone to bounce things off, someone who understands what it's like not having consistent energy, or maybe to whine a little bit, and on and on and on. Referring people to each other just hasn't worked. Maybe someone gives you the name of another Projector, but it just never works out for whatever reason. Different fractal, different whatever, no energy. Well, here is a way!

I am inviting all Projectors – yes, YOU – to participate in a 10 week sharing and empowering workshop that will connect you to other Projectors in a variety of ways covering a variety of topics. Allow your authority to decide. (If you would like a more formal, personal invitation, please send me an email and I will either call you or write back.)

All that is required is to have had a Foundation reading and show up. I will initiate you in this process. Kind of cool – I get invited, say yes and now I get to use my Channel of Initiation to initiate!!! To initiate you to connect. Just show up.

Note: Since this workshop is now over, if you missed it and would like me to schedule another one, please write me.

Wishing you your own perfect awareness in every moment,

Becky

Becky@HumanDesignForYou.com